He became known as the purple nose! The others always looked at him with surprise! Sometimes he even noticed that his friends were making fun of him.

One day, when he was really upset with his nose, he decided to change its color! So he picked the orange color and poured it on his nose! Now Tata was like the rest of his friends, and he was no longer ashamed!

Now Tata was like the rest of his friends, and he was no longer ashamed!

When his friends saw him, they asked with surprise:

Why is your nose not purple anymore?

Tata replied:

Because I went to the market and bought a new nose!

His friends said:

Is it possible to buy a nose from the market?

Tata also answered:

Yes, of course! You can see that I bought it.

Tata and his friends played together and had fun! He was pretty happy that he had become like the rest of his friends.

After a few hours, it started raining and washed away the color of Tata's nose! Tata's friends said:

Your nose is purple again! Did you lie to us?

Tata was very embarrassed that the others had discovered his lie, so he hurriedly ran home.

Tata's grandmother had come to their house to be their guest for a few days. When the grandmother saw that Tata was upset, she sat next to him and asked:

Why are you upset, my dear? Let me know if something is bothering you.

Tata told the whole story to his grandmother. Grandma said:

Look into my eyes! One of my eyes is a black button, and the other is a green button! So I am not like other snowmen too!

Tata looked at the grandmother's eyes with surprise and said:

Are you not upset that your eyes are not the same?

Grandma replied:

I think the differences between snowmen; it's a fascinating and beautiful thing!

Tata remembered his grandfather and said:

Grandpa's hat is taller than all the other snowmen!

Grandmother Snowy said:

One of aunt's hands is wooden, and the other is made of metal! Now, do you realize that we are all different?

Tata looked at her purple nose in the mirror and said:

But among all those orange colors, my purple nose is very noticeable.

Grandma said:

Well, it is very, very great! In this way, you can be found very easily among all those orange colors and shine like a star!
